You may notice that we pretty much always ask you to reserve a bit of pasta cooking water before draining your pasta. Wondering what makes this cloudy water so darn special? It's salty and starchy, and those magical starches help emulsify your sauce (aka turn it silky smooth). Basically, it makes good pasta great, and we'd never leave you with a bowl full of just good.

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Wash and dry produce. Zest and quarter lemon. Peel and finely chop garlic. Halve, peel, and thinly slice half the onion (whole onion for 4 servings). Finely chop parsley. Rinse shrimp under cold water and pat dry with paper towels; toss in a medium bowl with a drizzle of olive oil, lemon zest, and $\frac{1}{4}$ of the garlic. If you've got some on hand, add a pinch of chili flakes from your pantry if desired. Season with salt and pepper.

2.

Melt 1 TBSP butter (2 TBSP for 4 servings) in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add half the panko (all for 4) and season with salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, until golden brown and toasted, 3–4 minutes. Turn off heat; transfer to a small bowl. Wipe out pan.

3.

Once water is boiling, add pasta to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 9–11 minutes. Reserve 1 cup pasta cooking water, then drain. Meanwhile, melt 1 TBSP butter (2 TBSP for 4 servings) in pan used for panko over high heat. Add shrimp mixture; cook, stirring, until opaque and cooked through, 2–3 minutes. Turn off heat; transfer to a plate. Wash out pan.

4.

Melt 2 TBSP butter (4 TBSP for 4 servings) in same pan over medium heat. Add sliced onion and season with salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, until softened, 2–3 minutes. Add remaining garlic; cook until fragrant, 30 seconds. Stir in stock concentrates and $\frac{1}{4}$ cup reserved pasta cooking water ($\frac{1}{3}$ cup for 4). Simmer until slightly thickened, 1–2 minutes.

5.

Stir in drained pasta, shrimp mixture, cheese, and half the parsley. Toss, adding splashes of reserved pasta cooking water as needed, until everything is thoroughly coated in sauce. (If cheese clumps, continue stirring and adding more pasta water until smooth!) Add a big squeeze of lemon juice and season generously with salt and pepper.

6.

Divide pasta between bowls. Top with as much toasted panko and remaining parsley as you'd like. Garnish with a pinch of chili flakes from your pantry if desired. Serve with remaining lemon wedges on the side.

Shrimp is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 145 degrees.
